

Application for the Repetition of the Study Year Following a Negative Board Examination¹

Student:
First and last name:
Student number:
Study programme:
Current semester:

Please note: Students have the right to repeat a study year ONCE following a negative assessment in a board examination. The Academic Director is to be notified of the desired repetition within one month after the announcement of the examination result. Failed examinations and the accompanying courses have to be repeated/attended once again within the course of the repeated study year. When it comes to passed exams and the courses they are part of, it is up to the Academic Director to decide whether the student needs to repeat them or attend them once more.
